Leadership Competencies for Top Management

Programme Overview

" The problem with turbulence, is not the turbulence; it is working with yesterday's mind " - Drucker

" AI is more Profound than fire or electricity " - Sundar Pichai

Leadership in the 21 century is going to be the most critical factor for individuals and organisations to succeed. More than 16 years of research and engagement with leaders across industries and sectors, suggests that Senior Leaders' technical and functional skills need to be heavily complemented by emotionally intelligent competencies, and other Leadership skills for Success at Top levels. This programme has been designed using this philosophy. This programme enables individuals to build the 21st century leadership capabilities for success, and also to learn how to drive transformational change.

The Programme draws from objective and reliable data sources, in its attempt to drive leader success capabilities. One is the curated 360-degree Feedback, and the other is a reliable, validated Psychometric tool MHS EQi 2.0. Using the findings of the two Reports, our team of Executive Coaches will work with each participant, in deriving critical insights that will enable high performance. Their competencies will be studied at a micro-level and leadership potential will be assessed; subsequently, the coaches will help each participant to formulate a personal action plan, to sharpen their leadership competencies.

The design of the programme enables specialised and personalised inputs for each executive. The plenary sessions will be in the classroom with the Lead Faculty and subsequently each breakout group of 6 to 8 participants will have one Certified Coach who is an industry veteran and comes with professional maturity and experience. Over the 4-day period, the participants will have 8 coaching-intensive inputs with the Coach and also be able to leverage the group as a resource.

A check-list of success behaviours will be drawn up, relevant for those leading at the top, and for driving successful transformation. The group, which builds familiarity with each other during the programme, will be a rich source of feedback and peer-support. Each individual will take away a Personal Development Action Plan, following inputs from the Faculty as well as the Coaching Sessions.
